Walter	Katelyn Waggoner, D.V.M.	Exam - Brief	12/2/2024	1	$30.00	$0.00	$30.00
Walter is newly acquired. He was picked up on Saturday from Bowie. He was being fed alfalfa and coastal there, and Julie has offered him alfalfa, wheat hay, and alfapro. He quids the hay, especially the alfalfa, but is tolerating alfapro well. His feces got runny for about a day, but have firmed up since Julie administered some probiotics. On exam, BCS 2/9, HR 44, RR 16, T 98.9, normal gut sounds, normal respiratory noises, MM pink and moist, CRT <2, upper incisors significantly worn, cannot look in the back of his mouth, no lymphadenopathy, Abrasion R point of shoulder but no other integument abnormalities noted. There is mild white opaque nasal discharge from the R nostril, only serous discharge from the L nostril noted at this time. Bloodwork shows moderate anemia and hyperglobulinemia. I suspect the anemia is from emaciation, and he may have been challenged with pathogens while comingling at the kill pen to increase his globulins. I recommend no treatment for nasal discharge at this time since SAA is so low. If it persists past three days, start TMS.

Hulk	Katelyn Waggoner, D.V.M.	Exam - Recheck	12/2/2024	1	$27.00	$0.00	$27.00
Hulk's enucleation site dehisced, but is healing relatively well from the inside out with normal granulation tissue production of yellow mucoid discharge. There is also some milky discharge coming from the L nostril, which I believe is due to communication of the NL duct. It started after he was done with his antibiotics. I advised doing another 7 d of the TMS tabs. If the nasal discharge does not improve as it heals or comes back after abx, we might need to flush his sinus.

Eeyore	Katelyn Waggoner, D.V.M.	Exam	12/17/2024	1	$75.00	$0.00	$75.00

Eeyore was acquired from McLain about a week ago with two other donkeys. All of these donkeys have developed a cough. Dr. Hardy advised Julie to start Eeyore on 8 SMZ tabs once a day when she developed her cough. They did bloodwork and it was all WNL a week ago. Since then, Eeyore has gone off feed and started to have some foamy saliva from her mouth. They are not sure if she is drinking well. She also has bad forefeet pathology that Dr. Hardy diagnosed on rads (laminitis?).

On exam today, Eeyore ambulates with a limp on the RF and stilted gait LF. Her feet look characteristic for a chronic founder. HR 82, RR 20, T 98.0, quiet gut sounds that are only present ventrally, MM pink and tacky, CRT 2 sec, normal respiratory noises, no coughing, no nasal discharge but some ocular discharge, thick foam from mouth, healing ulceration of lower lip, no other detectible oral pathology today.

Bloodwork shows borderline neutrophilia, dehydration, many electrolyte abnormalities, high TP/Glob, moderate elevation in GGT, and marked elevation in SAA. I wonder if the TBIL is actually high and the machine erroneously read it as <0.1.

Dfdx include influenza that has been going around that kill pen in McLain. Others include unknown bacterial or viral infection, ascending cholangiohepatitis, hepatic lipidosis,

Did not collect samples for testing today because of being on antibiotics for a week already.

Plan to provide supportive care to encourage appetite and monitor response. Continue on Trimeth/sulfa but increase to twice daily, start vit E and banamine. Administer DMSO fluids. Offer a variety of foods.

Grace	Katelyn Waggoner, D.V.M.	Exam - Ophthalmic	1/6/2025	1	$75.00	$0.00	$75.00

R eye was noted to be non-visual and unresponsive to light at intake exam in July. Now Julie has noted that it has an odd white opacity. She did not seem painful yesterday - holding it open well, but this morning there was some tearing from that eye.

On exam, the R eye is non-visual. There is a 5 mm irregular oval of milky yellow opacity with neovascularization through the cornea to that area. It looks like a stromal abscess, but is not painful like a typical stromal abscess would be.

Regardless of initial etiology, the eye is doing well to try to heal itself. I recommended not doing any aggressive therapy with SPL since the eye is non-visual anyway, and the mare will not let Julie treat in the eye at home. Instead, we are going to try 1 week of banamine 1x per day and if the eye seems comfortable, taper off to once every other day for a week, then discontinue banamine. If she has recurrent bouts of pain in that eye, we can consider enucleation, though the L eye has some posterior synechiae and cataracts as well.

Jonah	Katelyn Waggoner, D.V.M.	Exam - Brief	1/6/2025	1	$30.00	$0.00	$30.00

Jonah is recently acquired. Julie has noted that he has a great appetite, but lays down a lot and sometimes struggles to get back up. Kimi has already worked on his feet to get his toes trimmed back some, but they were in really bad shape. On exam, Jonah is lame LF at the walk with overlong toes and severely underrun heels. BCS 3/5. HR 80 with normal rhythm (very nervous), RR 18, normal gut sounds, normal respiratory noises. Eyes are clinically normal. No other abnormalities noted other than mild edema or fluctuant swelling of L lower mandible of unknown origin. Bloodwork unremarkable other than mild elevations in muscle enzymes - he apparently struggled to get up this morning. Teeth - moderate lingual and buccal points, hooks 106 and 206, ETR 109, 110, 209, 210, ramps 311 and 411. Radiographs show significant coffin joint arthritis (L>>R) with very negative palmar angles both fore - needs to be addressed to the fullest extent that Kimi can. He is apparently very nervous in the stocks at their place, so he may need sedated for further work. Plan to inject coffins today and administer osphos.
